In the front of the number, we give a pattern, printed in colors, of a Spanish Opera Hood, taken from one worn by the Empress of the French (The Empress Eugenie seen here in a painting by Xavier). The materials are 2 ounces of white (about 90 grams or 400 yds) and 1 ½ (about 60 grams or 300 yds) ounces of scarlet Andalusian wool (in between fingering and sport weight), a pair of knitting pins, No 5 (US size 9/5.25mm) and one or two pairs of chenille tassels. For the feather border, one ounce (about 40 grams or 200 yards) of white Andalusian wool and a pair of knitting pins, No. 16 (US size 00/1.75mm); the pins should be measured in the circle of the Bell gauge. (I tested the original pattern with fingering weight wool and the needle sizes above for the full-size version and lace weight alpaca and US size 4/3.5mm needles to make a hood the size appropriate for a girl.)

Plain knitting = Garter stitch
 Raise a loop = Pick up stitch

The White Border. – The whole of the hood is made in plain knitting (garter stitch), which should be worked loosely and lightly; the principal part of it being double. It is commenced at the border which runs round the shoulders.

With the white wool cast on 263 stitches, with two pins. (Consider using a provisional cast on. If not, use a very elastic cast on.)

1st and 2nd rows – All plain knitting (garter stitch), always slipping the 1st stitch.

3rd row – Slip the 1st stitch, knit 31 stitches plain, knit 3 stitches all together, knit 95 plain, knit 3 together again, knit 95 plain, knit 3 together, knit 32 plain.

4th row – All plain knitting, slipping the 1st stitch.

5th row – Slip 1, knit 30 plain, knit 3 together, knit 93 plain, knit 3 together, this is the center of the row; knit 93 plain, knit 3 together, knit 31 plain.

6th row – Plain, slipping the 1st stitch.

Repeat the last 2 rows 6 times more, knitting one plain stitch less at the beginning and end of each row, and 2 stitches less on each side of the center; the 3 stitches knitted together should always be worked over those of the preceding row.

The stitches left are for the side border. (You'll work these stitches off as you knit up.)

20th Row – Knit all the scarlet stitches plain, except the last two, then knit them and the next white stitches together (side decrease); turn back.

21st Row – Knit 78 plain, knit 3 together in the center as before, knit the rest of the scarlet stitches plain, except the last two, then knit them and the next white stitches together; turn back.

22nd Row – Knit all the scarlet stitches plain except the last two, then knit them and the next white stitches together; turn back.

23rd Row – Knit 76 plain, knit 3 together, knit the rest, except the last two, then knit them and the next white together; turn back.

Repeat the last 2 rows 22 times more, knitting 2 stitches less each time at the beginning and end of the row. Then these rows are worked all the white stitches will be used.

(This worksheet will help keep track of rows. The number shown is the number of stitches on either side of the knit 3 together in the middle.)

104th row – Plain

105th row – Knit every 2 stitches together.

106th row – Plain. Draw the remaining stitches together to fasten off.

The Lining. – This is worked exactly the same as the part already made, with the exception that the white wool is used throughout. If it is worked separately, it must be commenced by casting on the 263 stitches; but the neatest way is to raise (pick up) all the stitches which were first cast on, as this avoids sewing the two parts together. To raise the stitches, commence at the 1st row of the work, put the pin into the 1st stitch cast on, keep the wool at the back, and with the point of the pin bring the wool through in a loop, which raises one loop; put the pin to the next stitch, bring the wool through, and continue the same until there are 263 loops on the pin, then commence at the 1st row, repeat the whole of the direction, using white wool. (If you used a provision cast on, pick up the stitches from the original cast on.) When finished, the selvages of the two pieces should be sewed together across the front.

(Following are the charts from the previous section that can be used to work the lining, if needed.)

63rd row – Knit every 2 stitches together.

64th row – Plain.

65th row – Knit every 2 stitches together, and draw the remaining stitches close together to fasten them off.

Sew the scarlet selvedge to the front of the hood, so that it may fall back, as in the engraving; the front is then finished with the following feather border, which can, if wished, be continued round the edge of the 2nd white border.

Feather Border. – With the white wool and No. 16 pins (US size 00/1.75mm) cast on 6 stitches.

1st row – Knit the first stitch plain, put the pin into the next stitch, pass the wool between the points of the pins from the front to the back, round the tops of the 1st and 2nd fingers to the front, pass the wool between the pins again, and round the fingers to the front as before; pass the wool between the pins again, which will make three turns or loops of which are round the fingers; bring the three turns of wool through the stitch, and take it off the left pin to finish the stitch; take the fingers out of the loops and work the remaining 4 stitches the same. (See photos below for further explanation. You will pull 3 strands through the stitch but it will create 2 loops on the back side.)

2nd row – Knit the three turns of wool together as one stitch; repeat, knitting the last stitch plain.

Repeat these 2 rows until sufficient length is made, and cast off. The loops of wool should be about three-quarters of an inch in length; and if they appear too long, the wool need only be passed round one finger. It is then to be sewed to the hood.

(To finish off the hood in keeping with the photo, I measured out 6 strands of the colored yarn to about 24 inches, doubled them at the top [making 12 strands of 12 inches] and tied off a small loop at the top with an overhand knot. I then braided it. When it looked long enough, I tied an overhand knot at the bottom and cut the strands leaving about ½” to form a small tassel. Make 2 and attach to the white points at the neck. Then I made 2 pompoms about 2” long and attached over where the ties had been attached.)
